SYMPOTNS OF A DISEASED LIVER.—
The first symptom in the Spleen, sometimes the earliest sign of disease, is a slight pain in the lumbar region, a general loss of appetite. Bowels are constipated, the head is troubled with pain, is dull and heavy, with a sense of oppression, and the body is languid. The skin is worn, pale, and yellowish, with a slight feverishness, which is not caused by inflammation, but by a morbid action of the body. The pulse is small, weak, and rapid, and the heart is enlarged. The tongue is dry and despondent, and the eyes are dimmed. The patient is listless, and feeling, yet one can hardly suspect any disease to exist. The symptoms are not always so evident, but the above symptoms should draw the doctor's attention to the disease. If you have any disease, you should consult a physician, and have him prescribe a medicine to cure it.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the above symptoms appear.

Persons Travelling or Living in Unhealthy Countries.—If you are in a healthy country, you will be safe; but if you are in without either, then, indeed, you must be cautious. Take the best in the healthy country, and the best in the unhealthy.

If You have eaten anything hard or dry, or any thing else that has been boiled or baked, wash it down with water, or drink a glass of beer.

Time and Doctor's Bills will be saved by always keeping the Regulator.

For, whatever the ailment may be, a thoroughly sound and well-made medicine will never leave you in peace. The remedy is harmless and safe, and inexpensive.

IT IS PURELY VIGORATIVE.

And, without any of the injurious effects of Quinine, without any of the injurious effects of Quinine.

A Governor's Remedy.— Sister, I am sure you will be safe in my hands, for I am a good man, and I am satisfied it is a wise course to follow.

Hon. Almon M. Thompson, Governor of Massachusetts.—
Has driven several hundred from the use of the Spleen, and has given them a new life.

Walter Davis.—
That was never safe to Betters.—I have used many for Dyspepsia, Fever, Abdominal and Diabetic, but never had any success. I have now found a peculiar Liver Remedy, and never since have I had any trouble with any disease.

Dr. T. W. Mason says: From actual experience I have had an anti-scorbutic remedy.

FAIR INES.

BY THOMAS ROGERS.

One day in fair Ines?
She's gone into the west,
To dash where the sun is down,
And she'll dash where the sun is up,
Till we dash out with her again,
And dashes open her breast.

Torn again, fair Ines,
Bitter is the gallant cavalier,
For the moon and clouds alone
And stars survived bright;

That walks beneath their light,
And breathes the tear-gazing they shake.

Least of all, fair Ines,
That gallant cavalier,

Who rode so gayly by the side,
As though he were the sun at morn,

There bars no hoary dawns at home,
Or true dews at eve,

The world should curse the sun to win
The dearest of the dear?

I saw there, lovely Ines,
Bitter is the gallant cavalier,

With hands of gentlest before,
And bower'd waver'd before,

Least of all, fair Ines,
That gallant cavalier,

Who rode so gayly by the side,

As though he were the sun at morn,

There bars no hoary dawns at home,

Or true dews at eve,

The world should curse the sun to win
The dearest of the dear?

Least of all, fair Ines,

LRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1883.

Traveling Agent.

M. A. Poste, of Lexington, is our regularly authorized Traveling Agent and Correspondent.

FOR THE LEGALIST.

We are authorized to announce Mr. J. D. Wilson as an independent candidate to represent Breckinridge County in the popular branch at the general assembly, at the ensuing August session.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Holt E. Woods has returned from New York.

Mrs. Cora Hinsdale is visiting relatives at Evansville, Ind.

Col. W. C. Scott, of Louisville, is at the Carpet Hotel.

Mrs. Lila Robertson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Anna Moore.

Mr. J. R. Johnson and Miss May McMillin of Louisville, spent Sunday in town.

Dr. J. P. Lewis and Mr. Martin Hamblen will leave in a few days for an extended western trip.

Mrs. Fannie Conrad, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., is visiting her brother, Mr. S. P. Conrad, in Louisville.

Miss Leslie Newson, last Sunday morning, paid $100 to Dr. W. H. to pay her brother, Mr. W. W. Newson, his debts.

Mr. W. W. Chambers, bookkeeper for Hersey Scott & Co., arrived from Louisville Sunday, and is at the Carpet Hotel.

Miss Anna Faith, 11, L. L. Jones, of Louisville, spent a couple of days last week in the guests of Misses Miles of Eliza and Billie Park.

Mr. Janis Jenkins went to Evansville, Ind., Monday, who seems to be in company with his brother, Mr. J. L. Jenkins.

Mr. Louis Kelleher, representing G. G. Ehrenberg & Sons, Louisville, was here yesterday, and will remain until Saturday.

He is the best trade in this town of any of his competitors, and right justly so, for he is really a first-class man.

Consequently he has built up a good trade for his house here, as well as all over the river.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

The weather is hot enough now.

The negroes voted solid for Alexander.

Two more houses for rent by H. L. Newson.

Next Tuesday is pay day on the railroad.

Strawberries are plentiful at 25 cents per gallon.

It was a very quiet election, but a large vote polled.

The small boy above discovered that cherries are ripe.

They are fairly making the Bennington railroad here.

"Our boy" didn't get there by a large majority, did he?

Mr. W. W. Wadling was granted soloce licencse by Judge Mercer, Monday.

WAGON FOR SALE.—J. L. Miller has a fine black wagon for sale cheap.

Town Creek Bridge will be completed in two weeks, and then the rail to Holt's Bottom will be open.

The election for city marshal, Monday, resulted in a plurality of twenty-eight for Mr. Wm. Alexander.

Mr. W. B. White, Cleverport, Ky., says: "Brother John" is universally praised by all who see them.

We regret to learn that our old friend, Judge Keith, of the Meade county court, and wife have separated.

Postmen, bristol and fastidious are the finest. Dye colors. One package colors 1 lb. of gesso. 10 cents for set colors.

This is come out in the wheat, and doubtless whether it will grow more, half a crop on a general average of the country.

Don't buy Wall Paper and Window shades until you have examined J. D. Holland's stock, the best in the city in respect to quality.

The railroad contractors are importing Irish nailers, saying that our express are insolvent, unreliable, and no means found for us.

A farmer living near Hardinburg had four acres of tobacco bitten down by the frost of last week. Our informant did not know what to do.

The little black boy, who was supposed to have received fatal injuries, mention of which we made last week, is in a fair way of recovery.

The Rainbow made the run from Frankfort to Lexington, making three landings en route, in the city, on our draw trip Wednesday, in forty-five minutes.

We hope the new city marshal will attend at once to the streets and back premises of the town. Cleverport is offerec, just now, a fine addition to the way of life to industrious epidemics.

Work given out. On receipt of your address we will make an offer by which you can earn to $1.00 average, at your home, or in your shop, and we will do it. H. C. Wilkinson & Co., 195 and 197 Fulton Street, New York.

The railroad people contemplate a grand reparation for the damage done in the late July, 1882, edition of the news, and the colored M. E. district conference at that time, and the dedication of new outlets for the colored people.

Our old friend, Dr. B. O. Williams, writes us from West View, this country, that the crops are looking fine in that section; that wheat has come out wonderfully, and a good deal of corn is in. He also says the dairymen up there are delighted with the state ticket and platform.

J. T. Jones proposes to give an oak chestnut tree, June 30, to the Plasterers, and the colored people will be invited to the railroad, having the halliards.

That gallant Garret, who has been shot in the head, is still a hero, and is striking at him with a pistol, fortunately for them both missing his object. They think he is a good man, and that he is fit for two or three minutes, when they were separated before, before he suffered his mortal injury.

Monday was the first real hot day of the season, and succeeded in starting the long summer's spring fights. John Garrett and Frank J. Smith, the two most prominent on the railroad, having the halliards.

That gallant Garret, who has been shot in the head, is still a hero, and is striking at him with a pistol, fortunately for them both missing his object. They think he is a good man, and that he is fit for two or three minutes, when they were separated before, before he suffered his mortal injury.

"Oh, my back!" is a common exclamation of the world of mind and body suffering. It is singular this pain arises from such various causes. Kidney disease, rheumatism, dyspepsia, sciatica, neuralgia, etc., are chief causes. When the heart is prompt relief. It can be found here, but not there. It is a disease of the foundation by making the blood rich and pure. Leading physicians and rich men are cured. Many a man has ranged many, and if you are a sufferer try it.

And a general was seen on our roads Sunday afternoon. The Brackenridge family brought up a family consisting of father, mother, and three little children, one of the last of a babe, from Newburgh, Ind., to Louisville, to seek relief. Mr. Staines, acting under the advice of his physician, was sent to the hospital, and the mother, a Mrs. Hunter, hoping that her tender care and change of scene would bring relief, accompanied him. The doctor's raving and the husband's and children's distress constituted a most pitiful spectacle. Several tender-hearted friends interceded with the physician, and Mr. John Carson prepared a wagon and took them out to a branch of the Ohio River, where the Farms are a mile or two south of town.

We call attention to the advertisement of Hill's Manual of Social and Business Forms in today's issue. A careful examination of the book will satisfy you thoroughly with its value as a book of reference and manual for consultation. It contains all the information that a man and student may need, and is by no means uninteresting to the general reader. It is well worth having.

President Davis of Pennsylvania, after a long absence, has returned to the city of Lancaster, a grand entertainment in his honor. The professor, a certain man, is not going to stop or rest until he is discovered and the murderer of John Bryan avenged.

This is a splendid place to start a butchery, especially in this part of the country. The cost of meat is high, and the market is large.

The locality of this latter crime is near a schoolhouse on Deer Creek, and about a mile from the city, and is about eight miles. The victim was a unknown man, a skin peddler, name unknown to us, who had been in the habit of making his rounds through the country around this city a dry or two before his disappearance, taking his traps and traps, and dashingly about a place that would not be known to any other on the river.
